

RANDOM REFLECTIONS

BY

ROSEMARY BALEY

This column "RANDOM REFLECTIONS" is a bit of potpourri pertaining mostly about our lives, that of my late husband, our son Tim and me, over the past 52 plus years. To understand and appreciate these writings it will be of help for you to read the biography of Tim included in this web-site. So many times when we thought we could not get through another day, in desperation, we finally remembered where our help was! We simply were so buried in our problems and did not trust God for His strength and help - even though my husband and I were in the ministry and were so aware of God's love and power! Worse yet, many times we were too impatient to wait for the answers. We learned the hard way the Lord answers our prayers - however, as yes, no, or wait awhile. Not an easy lesson to learn!

Shortly, we plan to have my first book "HIS Birth Made a Difference - HIS Birth Made THE Difference." included in this site. But for now just these meditations will be posted. You will see they evolve around things that have transpired after the book was completed in 1979. My only desire is to bring anyone who may read these meditations to a greater love, stronger faith, and closer walk with our wonderful, wonderful Lord and if he is not your Savior, and best friend hopefully, I can help you see His way more clearly and you too will know a love and peace that only HE can give you and our world! I would be honored to hear from you - via e-mail and ask that if you are blessed by what you read to pass it on to others.
